If you choose not to report your test scores, you will be required to submit additional materials as part of your application through WPI's Flex Path option. Students who choose WPI's Flex Path may submit alternative materials that they believe will better reflect their potential for success at WPI, such as examples of academic work or extracurricular projects.

I wish WPI to consider my SAT or ACT scores. (skip to next page)

I do not wish WPI to consider my SAT or ACT scores. Instead, I am submitting alternative material through WPI's Flex Path.

Students who choose the Flex Path are encouraged to submit examples of academic work or extracurricular projects that reflect a high level of organization, motivation, creativity and problem-solving ability in lieu of test scores. Some examples include:

- Written descriptions of science projects
- Research papers
- Overview of leadership experiences
- Entrepreneurial activities
- Robotics or other mechanical design concepts
- Eagle Scout projects
- Summer program experiences
- Portfolios
- Inventions

Any other significant work undertaken independently or in school that the applicant believes is an appropriate reflection of his or her academic potential would be an appropriate submission. We will review your application as a whole when your flex path materials are received. I wish to...
